Academic Writing I

Ladislav Nebeský: Attempt to square the circle (square: green, circle: red)

Writing English academic texts in computer science and mathematics (thesis introductions, conference and talk abstracts, journal articles, and other genres).

Reading, listening and speaking, too: discussion of sample texts; informal presentations of your own ideas in English.

Recommended for Master's and PhD students.
Led by native British English speaker Dr Andrew Goodall.

SIS code: NJAZ201.
